INDEX JOURNAL OF ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH VOLUME 34

Title	Author	Subject Area														Number/Page
		Education and Training	Accident Prevention	Health Care and Hospitals	Disease Prevention	Air and Water Pollution	Solid Waste Management	Professional Development	Politics	Vector Control	Housing and Urban Problems	Noise	Food, Drug and Milk	Industrial and Radiological Health	Land Use
Alaska Food Cache Meant Death	Frank J. VonderHaar		X		X								X			6/594-596
Analysis of Resource Recovery Act of 1970	Lester E. Blaschke						X									1/89-92
Applicant Requirements for Demonstration Grants for Resource Recovery Systems	John T. Talty						X									1/84-88
Career Development for the Disadvantaged—Community Aides in Environmental Health	John J. McHugh	X														2/163-166
The Challenge of Change	Francis J. Goldsmith							X								1/97-102
Community or Consumer Health Action an Integral Part of the Comprehensive Health Center	Theodore Parrish	X		X				X								3/271-276
Considerations Preliminary to Development of a Waste Pesticide Management System	R. L. Goulding						X									1/55-57
Control of Automotive Air Pollution	Edwin Nelson					X										3/304-310
Current Status and Future of Individual Aerobic Sewage Treatment Systems	Allan Young					X										1/103-108
DAWN Must Come	Lowell Weicker								X							2/148-419
Declaration of Environment	John B. Calhoun, Ph.D.							X								4/357-364
DPD Methods for Water Clorination Control	A. T. Palin, Ph.D.					X										2/201-203
Earthquake Report	Bernard S. Weintraub			X	X	X	X									1/45-54
An Ecological Blueprint for Today	Benjamin J. Reynolds					X	X				X				X	1/30-39
Ecology Core Attracts Students to Public Health	Jerry Johnson, Ph.D.	X														2/171-173
Ecology and Environmental Sanitation The Phosphate Controversy	V. W. Greene, Ph.D.					X										2/157-162
The Effects of a Larvicide on Waste Stabilization Pond Performance	Razeghi, Lawrence and King					X				X						6/614-618
Emitter, Controller Competency Needed to Employ Known Air Pollution Controls	James R. Mahoney					X										4/394-396
The Environmental Service Division Component of Neighborhood Health Centers	Rogers B. Morris			X							X					3/284-287
An Epidemiologic Report of the Holy Cross Football Team Hepatitis Outbreak	Leonard J. Morse, M.D. et. al				X	X										5/470-476
Epidemiology of Poisoning by Chemicals	Frank S. Lisella, Ph.D.		X		X								X			6/603-613

Title	Author	Education and Training	Accident Prevention	Health Care and Hospitals	Disease Prevention	Air and Water Pollution	Solid Waste Management	Professional Development	Politics	Vector Control	Housing and Urban Problems	Noise	Food, Drug and Milk	Industrial and Radiological Health	Land Use	Number/Page
Eutrophic Conditions in Water	William J. Oswald, Ph.D.					X										4/390-393
Federal 1975 Air Quality Standards						X										1/14
Food Protection Has Many Facets	Walker, Ellis & Murphy												X			4/382-389
A Guide for Environmental Planning	Gene M. Crawford					X	X			X	X	X		X	X	4/413-416
A Guide to Assistance in Housing	Walker and Gibbs								X		X					5/524-525
Health Aspects of Arsenicals in the Environment	Lisella, Long & Scott					X							X			5/511-518
Hospital Environmentalist—Who Is He? Who Needs Him?	Robert J. Weatherby			X				X								2/186-189
How to Handle Used Disposable Needles	Edward Tateosian			X			X									4/401
Injuries—Environmental Threat to Man	Jesse L. Steinfeld, M.D.		X													1/40-44
The Internship Concept in Environmental Health Training	Herman Koren	X														2/174-181
Land Clearing and Right of Way Disposal Problems	Robert N. McMullen						X									2/211-212
Man, Environment and CO	Robert E. Novick	X				X								X		1/80-83
Montana Town Corrects Waste Disposal	John M. LeFebvre						X									5/497
Nature of Shellfish and Ecological Factors Contribute to Their Role in Foodborne Human Disease	Harold Bengsch				X								X			4/373-378
Noise Is Concern of Environmentalists	Edward K. Chook											X				4/405-406
Navy Trains Environmentalists								X								2/190-191
The Need for Sub-College Environmental Education Programs	Amer El Araf, D.V.M.	X														2/167-169
Noise Can Be Controlled	Cyril Duerden											X				2/150-154
The Nursing Role at Tufts-Delta	E. Christa Stern			X												3/288-291
Operation Bird Roost	Paul D'A. Didier				X					X					X	5/498-500
Oregon Governor's Ecology Program	Tom McCall					X			X						X	6/590-593
Pesticides in Water . . .	Ju-Chang Huang, Ph.D.					X							X			5/501-508
Pet Turtles Cause Salmonella Infections	Otis H. Peluso				X							X				2/210
Plan for Assimilation of Wastes	Emil T. Chanlett					X	X							X		2/198-200
Phoenix Department Teaches Private Pool Practices		X		X												4/402-404
Plastic Multiuse Milk Container Systems Present New Environmental Health Problems	Franklin D. Clark												X			2/205-209
Politics, Paperwork and Pollution Control	Matthew Gould					X			X							1/93-96
Rabies in the U.S.	Louis E. Adams				X					X						4/365-372

Title	Author	Subject Area														Number/Page
		Education and Training	Accident Prevention	Health Care and Hospitals	Disease Prevention	Air and Water Pollution	Solid Waste Management	Professional Development	Politics	Vector Control	Housing and Urban Problems	Noise	Food, Drug and Milk	Industrial and Radiological Health	Land Use
Radioactive Hydrogen Properties Outlined														X		4/420-421
Recovering Resources From Solid Wastes	Lawrence A. Burch						X									5/488-494
Rhetoric Big Waste Problem	Harold Gershowitz						X									2/192-194
The Role of the State Agency in Air Pollution Control	Lane Kirkpatrick					X			X							3/326-328
Shigella Spread Outlined					X								X			4/436
Small Communities Can Have Adequate Solid Waste Disposal	Paul McBride						X									2/195-196
Snowmobile Noise is a Threat to Hearing	Larry D. Ikenberry											X				3/258-261
Sodium Sesqui Carbonate—A New Chemical for Swimming Pool pH-Alkalinity Control	Coleman, Gates, Grove and Smelzer				X	X										1/71-79
Synthetic Flavors Improve Acceptance of Anticoagulant Type Rodenticides	Hulbert and Krumbiegel										X					4/407-411
Technology and Society	John D. Wilson							X	X							6/572-577
Telephones May Help Transmit Disease	Germaine and Liu				X											5/477-480
Toward Ecological Intervention, Human Ecosystems and Human Service Systems in Appalachia	Dwight Harshbarger, Ph.D.								X							3/311-315
Training at Tufts-Delta Health Center	Clay Simpson, Ph.D.	X		X												3/278-283
A Training Model for Using Indigenous Persons in Environmental Control	Callan and Franklin	X	X		X		X			X	X					5/481-486
Tufts-Delta Health Center, A Viable Neighborhood Institution of Community Medicine	Andrew B. James			X	X						X					3/266-270
Undergraduate Two-Year Programs in Environmental Health	Karol S. Wisnieski	X														2/182-185
The Use of Biological Analyses As Indicators of Water Quality	Richard D. Brown, Ph.D.					X							X			1/62-66
Values from an Evolutionary Perspective	John B. Calhoun, Ph.D.							X	X							6/578-583
The Value of a Health Ecology Practice	Francis J. Goldsmith							X	X							6/584-589
Waste Management in Food Processing	Louis C. Gilde					X	X						X			3/293-299
What's Going On in Abnormal Milk Control?	Olson and Jessup												X			1/67-70
What Is the Future of Pesticides?	Conrad F. Heins, Ph.D.				X	X	X		X	X			X			6/597-602
Who Will Lead Future Environmental Management	Patrick Kneafsey							X	X							3/300-302
Winneberger's Law	John T. Winneberger, Ph.D.					X										1/58-61